Luke 23:35	Sneered at Jesus
John 7:26	Rulers didn't believe in Christ
John 7:48	Nicodemus afraid to speak of his relationship to Jesus
John 12:42	Many rulers believe in Jesus—never said so out of fear of Pharisees. Pharisees could put them out of the synagogue.
Acts 3:17	Peter points out "rulers" acted in ignorance concerning Christ just as he did.
Acts 4:5, 8	Two more categories: elders and scribes. After 500 believed, the rulers and others gathered with the high priest asked Peter questions.

Galatians 4:21–31, Student Sample

Verse	Cross-reference	Significance
v. 21	Luke 16:29	Both passages talk about men listening to what the law says.
v. 22	Genesis 16, 17, 18:1–21	These passages are the historical account of the births of Abraham's two sons, one (Ishmael) by a bond woman, Hagar, and one (Isaac) by the free woman, Sarah. The passages also show the conflict between the two women and between their sons. They also give God's promises in relation to the birth of Isaac.
v. 23	Romans 9:6–8	This shows that God sees a difference between children of promise and children of the flesh. The former are true children of God.
v. 24	1 Corinthians 10:11	The cross-reference states that events that happened in the Old Testament were written for our instruction. Paul is using past events as an allegory of spiritual truth.
v. 25	(Bible dictionary)	Mount Sinai was the place where Moses received the Law.
v. 26	Revelations 21:2	The cross-reference tells of John's vision of the new Jerusalem coming down from heaven.
v. 27	Isaiah 54:1	This is the source of the quotation in verse 27. The content in Isaiah is one of rejoicing as a result of change from desolation to blessing.
v. 28	Galatians 3:29	The reference in both is that those in Christ are heirs according to promise.
v. 29	Galatians 5:11	Paul indicated that he is being persecuted because he is preaching according to the Spirit.
v. 30	Genesis 21:10, 12	This is the historical record of the casting out of Hagar and her son.
v. 31	Galatians 5:1	In verse 31, Paul draws the application of the allegory and this serves as a bridge to the exhortation that follows in 5:1.

Acts 9:1,2: "And Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem."

- II. Chief errors of their:
 - A. Outward righteousness
 1. Luke 7:36–50: "And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment. And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner. And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on. There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most? Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head. Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet. My head with oil didst thou not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee, her sins which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven. And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also? And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace."
 - B. Blindness to spiritual things
 1. John 3:1–10: "There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him, Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?"

"Pharisees" (Sample No. 2)

C. Emphasis on the ceremonial law

1. Matthew 15:1–9: "Then came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem saying, Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? For God commanded saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, he that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, it is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; And honour not his father and his mother, he shall be free, Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition. Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you saying, This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men."

D. Perversion of Scripture

1. Matthew 15:1,9: "Then came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem." "But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men."

E. Hindering potential believers

1. Acts 9:16,22: "For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake." "But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ."

VI. Verse

A. John 4:35.

VII. Illustration

A. Be instant in season and out of season—awareness of opportunities. This chapter might be titled: “What Christ did, and what the disciples did not do (under the same circumstances).” While they were bargaining for “empanadas,” Christ was leading a harlot to salvation.

When the disciples went into town to buy some “empanadas y chorizos,” who did they first pass on the way? The woman! Was she interested? Was she seeking Christ? Did the disciples talk with her? Who else did they pass? Verse 28, the men of the city! Were they interested? Did the disciples talk to them? I doubt it. They were too prejudiced at this time.

When the disciples returned to the well, who did they pass on the way? First, the men of the city. Did they talk to them? No. Second, they passed the woman returning to the city. Did they talk to her?

No, and they chewed Christ out for having talked to her. I wonder if the disciples would have reported what they had seen and heard about Christ (1 John 1:3) if the woman and the men would have shown interest? “While Christ brought blessing to the city, the disciples only brought business to the local stores.”

- I. What is a basic truth in this portion of Scripture?
 - A. Jesus was and is the eternal one who always existed before time and matter.
- II. How does it apply to a campus situation? work? organization? neighborhood? nation?
 - A. Stress how God can be known personally because of the Lord Jesus. God became a man to seek for man. Also, who can know you better than Jesus Christ—the Creator—God who became like one of His created creatures. Also, “We know love by this, that He laid down His life for us,” we do not have a high priest who cannot sympathize with our weaknesses, and “No man has seen God at any time. The only begotten God, who is in the bosom of the Father, He has explained Him.”
- III. In view of these truths, what specific changes should you make in your life?
 - A. Fix my eyes more on Jesus “the author and perfecter of faith.”

- VI. What verse would you like to memorize which best summarizes the truths of the passage?
 - A. John 1:1-5
- VII. Develop an illustration that will aid in the retention and communication of these truths.

Ephesians 4:11–16, Student Sample

1. Application. If each Christian maximizes his or her spiritual gift and works to serve the body in love, the Great Commission could be fulfilled. Therefore, in love, I will seek to motivate my brothers and sisters to find, develop, and use their spiritual gifts.
2. Changes. My efforts could be concentrated, strategically, in my local church, in Campus Crusade for Christ or in some other Christian service organization. I should spend more time applying my management skills to my assignments.
3. Carry out. Increase my reading and studying to include more books on management. Seek to simplify the registration process to build the effectiveness of the Christian conference. Spend time documenting my research for others in the body.
4. Personal prayer. Lord, may I use my spiritual gift of administration to build up the body of Christ. May the body grow in love as I use my gift to help fulfill the Great Commission.
5. Verse. Verse 16.

The Paraphrase

Another helpful step in understanding and teaching the Scriptures is doing a paraphrase to see the details of the passage you are studying.

How to see the details of a passage by writing a paraphrase.

- A. How to paraphrase: to paraphrase a passage of Scripture is to study a passage and to restate it in your own words.
- B. How a paraphrase can help you:
 1. To paraphrase a passage requires that you think through each thought and word of the passage sufficiently enough to restate it. It will clarify your thinking on the truths presented.
 2. It also can help your communication of those spiritual truths to others. You should seek to express the truths in terms that would be understood easily by someone else today. Put it into contemporary English. (Eugene Peterson's The Message is one modern paraphrase that would be good to study as an example.)
- C. How to use variety in paraphrase:
 1. A normal paraphrase: One type of paraphrase would be to take the passage one phrase at a time and rephrase it in your own words. It is important not to change just a few words in the passage but to change the entire phrase and leave almost no word the same.
 2. A condensed paraphrase: You might try to boil a passage down to perhaps two-thirds, one-half or even one-third its original length. Try not to omit the essential parts. This type is especially good for long passages or for narrative passages.
 3. An expanded paraphrase: You might expand the passage perhaps even to as much as twice its original length. You would be seeking to explain fully the meaning of the passage. It would include interpretations and explanations of things that were not clear. This would be very appropriate for doctrinal passages rather than narrative.
 4. Use of imagination: Use your imagination in paraphrasing.
 - a. Sometimes try changing illustrations into modern illustrations. Instead of saying the Word of God is "sharper than any two-edged sword," you might say it is "sharper than any surgeon's scalpel."
 - b. You might imagine that you are writing to some particular person today. For example, you want to paraphrase one of Paul's epistles. So, you imagine that you are writing a friend who is a new Christian, and you try to explain the truths found in the epistle to him in the language that you might normally use if you were writing him a letter.

The Topical Study

- I. What is a topical study?
 - A. Instead of studying a book or a portion of a book, in a topical study you are seeking to determine what is taught by Scripture on a particular subject. For example, you may wish to study what the Bible has to say about the subject "laziness."
 - B. For a doctrinal study, you simply choose a doctrinal topic, such as the doctrine of justification.
 - C. Because of time available, you may choose to limit your subject by limiting the portion of Scripture from which you obtain your material. For example: "The doctrine of Christ in Colossians," or "The use of the term children in the writings of John."
 - D. The key to a good topical study is the selection of a good topic.

- II. How to locate material for a topical study.
 - A. Use a concordance. Look up the use of words which relate to your topic.
 - B. Cross-references. Once you have found some passages that relate to your topic, you can often find cross-references from these to other passages.
 - C. Bible dictionary. This may give you both good information and further scriptural references concerning your topic.
 - D. Subject listings. Sometimes reference Bibles list Scripture references according to subject. There are also topical Bibles, such as Nave's Topical Bible, which write out the entire text of various passages that relate to certain topics.
 - E. If you have limited your subject to a certain portion of Scripture, such as "St. Paul's prayers in his epistles," you might have to read or scan the material to locate the sections you want.

- III. How to arrange the material you locate.
 - A. Once you have located your material, study it and make any notes concerning things that you want to remember.
 - B. Study your notes and categorize them. Group together similar ideas under similar topics. The different emphasis of the various verses will suggest various topics for the outline. As you begin to categorize verses, this may suggest to your mind further study in certain areas of the topic.
 - C. Next work your material into a logical outline. Begin with a rough tentative outline and polish it as you progress. Try to fit all of your material into the outline.

- IV. How to make applications from a topical study.

See principles of application in chapter ten of Josh McDowell's Guide to Understanding Your Bible.

The Biographical Study

This is really a specialized topical study—the topic here being a person.

- I. How to research a biographical study.
 - A. Things to keep in mind.
 1. You will find your material in a similar manner as you would for a topical study.
 2. Be careful if you use a Bible dictionary that you do not let it do your thinking for you or predispose your mind to certain conclusions. It may be best to read the Bible dictionary article after you have done your own thinking.
 3. Some Bible characters have more than one name, such as Saul for Paul, Cephas and Simon for Peter, Israel for Jacob. Be sure you have all the references for the person.
 4. Sometimes biblical names are used for more than one person. Saul, John, Mary, etc. Be sure that you are reading the person you want to study.
 5. Some characters have such a large portion of Scripture devoted to them that you may want to limit your study to a particular phase of that person's life. (Example: The prayer life of the apostle Paul.)
 - B. Things to look for. The following suggests certain items to look for in doing a research. Sometimes, because of lack of information available on an individual, it will not be possible to find all of these things. This does not pretend to be an exhaustive list but simply a guide. You will think of other areas for study as you find information on the person being studied.

 - 2) How does the New Testament represent him, if it does?
 6. Details. Do not overlook details. They add color and often prove to be very significant.
- II. How to organize your material in a biographical study.
- A. You may want to arrange your material in outline form. Some of the above suggestions (B under I.) of what to look for may suggest other categories.
 - B. You may want to write a character sketch of the person.
 - C. Conclude your story by writing a section on suggested personal applications to your own life. These could be learned either from the positive or negative side of the life studied.
